Intersexions: Reflections on Sex and Sexualities within Socio-Legal Studies

CALL FOR PAPERS

Joint GLAD and CCLCJ Postgraduate and Early Career Researchers Conference 11th May 2017

Gender and Law at Durham (GLAD) and the Centre for Criminal Law and Criminal Justice (CCLCJ) are pleased to invite submissions for its Postgraduate and Early Career Researchers Conference on 11th May 2017 at Durham Law School, Durham University. The conference will provide postgraduate research students, postdoctoral students and early career researchers with an opportunity to showcase their research and network with academic peers and researchers in their field.

Theme

We welcome submissions engaging with any aspect of gender, sexuality, feminist or queer studies in relation to socio-legal issues. Papers on sexual offending, sexual violence and the representation (and regulation) of sex and sexuality within arts and media are particularly encouraged. A prize will be awarded for the most innovative paper.

Abstracts

Those interested in presenting a paper should email a title and abstract of no more than 500 words to Tara Beattie (tara.e.beattie@durham.ac.uk) and Sophie Doherty (sophie.m.doherty@durham.ac.uk). The subject of the email should be 'GLAD/CCLCJ Conference'. The closing date for receipt of abstracts is 7th April 2017 with successful applicants notified by 14th April 2017.

Registration

Registration is free of charge. Those interested in attending the event can register by emailing Tara Beattie or Sophie Doherty. A light lunch and drinks reception will be provided. Please let us know if you have any dietary requirements. There will also be a self-pay dinner after the reception for those interested (please indicate if you wish to attend).

For all enquiries, please email the organisers, Tara Beattie or Sophie Doherty.
